

Dear Current and Future Customers:

On behalf of Bishop-Wisecarver Corporation and its employees, sales representatives and distribution partners I would like to thank you for your interest in my Company. As you've probably read by now, Bishop-Wisecarver has done business as a family-owned Company for more than 60 years. As the company has moved into the second generation I am honored to have become a WBENC certified woman-owned business. We have a proud history that mixes both strong values and continuous improvement. Our commitment to quality and our customers has enabled us to achieve sustained growth with our various product lines since the beginning. We are also committed to the next generation of engineers and machinists. Check out our support of FIRST and other STEM based initiatives. LINK I am also deeply committed to a strong manufacturing base in the USA and here in California. Through my involvement in CMTA and NAM I hope to make some small impact on improving the future of manufacturing in our country. You can follow my efforts and stories on my blog.

We've been in the linear motion industry since 1969 and we'll continue to be here in the future. We offer the broadest guide wheel based product line in the industry. Whether your application is an extreme environment, high heat, cold temperature, contaminated, wet, wash-down environment; or requires long lengths, smooth, low vibration movement; our products are the perfect solution.

Purchasing from a single manufacturer that fully backs the quality and life of its components and linear and rotary guides saves you both installation time and money. With our roots as a custom machinery builder, we are more than happy to provide modified standards and custom designs to suit our customer's application and design needs. Our products allow design differentiation that sets our customers apart. These are just a few of the reasons why you can count on Bishop-Wisecarver.

I hope you find our website a useful tool. We've worked very hard to create one of the best websites in the industry to provide you with the information you need quickly and easily. We look forward to serving you in the future.

Again, we thank you for your interest in Bishop-Wisecarver Corporation.

Sincerely,

Pamela Wisecarver-Kan
President, Bishop-Wisecarver
